

Jack & Jill

Audition Script

Jill Jack. Thank goodness you're back

They embrace

Jack Don't say that you actually missed me these last few months

Jill Of course I've missed you. That's not the only reason I'm glad to see you. It's that wicked new squire.

Jack Oh no, what's he been up to this time? He has been nothing but trouble since he arrived in the village.

Jill He came round here a few minutes ago and he threatened to everyone thrown out of their cottages. What are we going to do?

Jack Don't worry Jill. As long as you keep paying your rent he can't do a thing.

Jill What little money we have is being spent on food, and there's hardly enough of that for us to live on.

Oh Jack I'm so miserable.

Jack Cheer up, you've got nothing to worry about. You won't be turned out of your cottage I promise.

Jill How can you say that? We are all penniless.

Jack Not anymore. Not now I have finished my degree in farming. And my part time job has given me enough money spar to help out. And they'll still be enough for us to get married.

Jill Oh Jack. That's the best news I have heard in ages. I can't wait to tell everyone they'll be so relieved.

Jack Can't imagine the squire being very pleased about it though. He'll be furious.

Jill What a pity he is the squire of Goosetown. I don't understand why your father left so suddenly leaving everything to him.

Jack Nor do I and I haven't heard from my father in months , that's why I came back today.

Jill And it's a good job you did Jack.

Jack I may not have wealth but I do have you and that's enough to keep me happy for the rest of my life. I better run to see how mother is getting on.
